

Palle said, "The organised sector can guarantee trusted quality of the products, while the condition of the cars sold in the unorganised sector and the consumer-to-consumer segment can be questionable. This is the reason for the sudden spurt in demand for pre-owned cars from the organised sector."

Despite a 1.5% market share in second-hand car sales, the organised segment is the fastest growing with a 3.6% spike in FY2017. Meanwhile, the growth for the unorganised sector remained flat in the same period. Maruti Suzuki is also planning to expand its pre-owned car business, True Value. It recently unveiled plans to open standalone branches solely for sale and exchange of pre-owned cars.
